

Choosing a Bridal Shower Invitation Package

Bridal shower invitations are an important grace note for any bridal shower you throw. They need to be just right, and with the bridal shower coming up fast, they need to be done quickly and stress free. To save time and money when you choose invitations, follow this guide to the most efficient way to pick out shower invitations.

First, pick out a design for the bridal shower invitations. Because online stores let you search their cards by theme, style, or color for a card that matches the showers theme, and you do not have to spend time schlepping from one store to the other and wrangling sample books, going online is the most efficient way of buying invitations. If you know what your friends wedding invitations look like, you may not even need to choose a new design, since many wedding invitation designs come with a version designed especially for bridal shower invitations.

Once you have chosen a design, lay out the text. The template will probably already include the usual information, like the brides name, the party location, time, and date, and the RSVP number and email address, but remember to use the extra lines to add details like whether the shower is a surprise, what the bridal showers theme is, where the bride is registered, whether the party is formal or casual, the bridal shower hosts name, and the URL of the bridal shower web page. Resist the urge to get cute with the wording. You have seen horrible jokes on invitations before, so you know how easy it is for humor to go astray.

Choose coordinating envelopes, envelope seals, and other details. Having the return address preprinted will save you considerable time that you would otherwise spend buying labels and sticking them on individually. When you have finished, pick out a shipping speed option. Sooner is always better because extra time cushions you against the worry of losing invitations in the mail. If the party plans are in flux, rather than waiting until the last minute to buy invitations, consider sending out invitations earlier and putting up a web page for the party with the most up to date information.

When you are done, click the order button and wait a few days. Most online stores print bridal shower invitations extremely quickly, so you can often have your invitations within the week. Put the invitations together, print and apply the address labels, and drop the finished invitations in the mailbox. Youre done! Now you can move on to the best part of the planning, and get ready to throw a splendid bridal shower.
